

Unity Historical Society met at Laraine
Light's home April 12, 1990 with Guest speaker
Ann Tenny.

She spoke on graves and mention Burham,
W.H. found 35 graves death heads with wings (schist looks like slate) Able Webster, wing crowned face. The Amos Fortune - domer of freedom, Phyllis Keeney said she has a rubbing of his grave stone. She had a display and passed pictures around for everyone to see.

She also gave us a map of Unity Cemetery to the Historical Society.

She mention a movie made in Unity and Lempeter "Ten Nights in a Barroom" with Kenneth Lord and Jean Clark from Unity, director
